How the Commission Works

- Client will choose a size and medium for their commission.
- Client will either e-mail or mail (to the information above) a clear photograph of good quality to artist. (More than one photograph is preferred for reference).
- Client will clearly describe and/or label which photograph artist is to work off of.
- Client will return signed contract to artist, along with 25% deposit (non-refundable) and work will begin.
- When work is finished, artist will e-mail a photograph of work.
- Client will pay artist through PayPal or personal check. Once payment has cleared, artist will mail the original work to the client.

By commissioning any work from Sport Horse Art Connection, you have read and agreed to the following contract

- I agree that artist will not begin work until signed contract and deposit is in hand.
- I agree that remaining balance, including S&H, is due before the artwork is shipped.
- I agree that the artist reserves the right to refuse any photograph(s) sent.
- I agree that the commission is the artist's interpretation of the photograph and may not be exact.
- I acknowledge that the copyright remains with the artist and that the artwork may be used for the advertising of Sport Horse Art Connection.
- Since all commissioned work is copyrighted by the artist, I agree not to reproduce and distribute the artwork without prior approval from the artist. Reproduction for personal use is allowed.
- If I have submitted any copyrighted photographs, I have obtained permission from the photographer to use the photographs.
